MELBOURNE FOOD & WINE FESTIVAL - MARCH 2021

We celebrated the Melbourne Food & Wine Festival in March 2021 at Treasury Gardens with the 'World's Longest Lunch'. The Lexus IS took pride of place, as guests including our Ambassador Emma Freedman, enjoyed a three-course feast by some of Melbourne's greatest chefs. We're excited to once again be event partners of the MFWF, and look forward to more delicious events this year.

THE WORLD'S LONGEST LUNCH - After being postponed almost exactly a year to the day, the lunch, headlined by guest chefs Stephanie Alexander, Jacques Reymond and Philippe Mouchel (aka the Melbourne Masters), became a reality on a brilliantly sunny Melbourne day. More than 1,600 revellers put on their Friday best and made their way to Treasury Gardens to savour three courses delivered with flair by Peter Rowland's team: Philippe's beetroot-cured king salmon with fennel salad, champignons à la Grecque, baby beetroot and spiced-almond crumble, Jacques' duck à l'orange with black rice, choy sum and pea tendrils, and capped by Stephanie's pear and brown-butter tart with sapore and ice-cream. All complemented by wines from Tahbilk, beers from Brick Lane, Calm & Stormy waters and coffee from Coffex.

THE WORLD'S LONGEST BRUNCH - On Saturday, meanwhile, the appearance of rain on the radar made for a quick last-minute change of venue for the inaugural Bank of Melbourne World's Longest Brunch. In true Melbourne style, the crowd of 1,200 switched up seamlessly to the new (and spectacular) setting, making the walls of the historic Royal Exhibition Building in Carlton Gardens ring with laughter and with the unmistakable sound of people overjoyed to be getting together to celebrate again in person.

Lune Croissanterie's Kate Reid and The Mulberry Group's Nathan Toleman, our brunch bosses, led the charge with a dazzling three-course menu, plated and served again with quite remarkable efficiency by Peter Rowland catering. Nathan drew on years of running some of the city's paradigm-shifting cafés to offer an exceptional avocado toast (with feta, beetroot, radish and finger lime), and a broccolini and kale salad with almond hummus, soft-boiled egg and bacon that very nearly stole the show. Kate then brought it on home with Lune croissants remixed into a bread-and-butter pudding par excellence, napped with labne and blackberries and sprinkled with granola crumble.
